

QUUest Annual Report 2015-16

Submitted by Lucia Heinold

The QUUest Bookstore's ministry is to support members' and visitor's spiritual journeys by providing a welcoming center with a stimulating selection of UUA theological publications from Skinner House and general books addressing personal spiritual growth, social and environmental justice, and other common interests.

We offer books supporting UU classes, group reading selections, and events. QUUest places individual special orders.

Profits are contributed to the UUA General Fund. $1,400 was transferred from 2015 sales.

QUUest Bookstore is open every Sunday, year round. Three people staff the book selling table, two for the Social Hour between Services and one to help close the store at the end of that Social Hour. There are 13 booksellers now. We always welcome more. The work is fun. Schedules are flexible. Attending monthly meetings is optional.

We purchase books based on UUA listings, Adult SGD class offerings, team suggestions and congregation recommendations, and special orders.

The active participants this year are Alma King, Anne Hagiwara, Evelyn Burns, Fran Lyman, Joyce Phillips, Linda Sprankle, Lineve McKie, Marion Holt, Roberta Billingsly, and Terry Butcher.
